LONGEVITY

HISTORY

The Liberian Registry was established in 1948 with the support of former U.S. Secretary of State Edward Stettinius who was also an instrumental figure in the forming of the United Nations. One of the main factors of the Registry's establishment was the need to find a neutral State to register U.S.-built Liberty ships in the name of corporations controlled by non-U.S. nationals. Shortly thereafter, the ease of administration of Liberian corporations was recognized and extended for use in other industries. This use led to the popularity of Liberian corporations, many of which continue to exist to this day.

Since its inception, the Liberian Registry has been operated from the United States. The strong U.S. – Liberia alliance enables the Registry to participate in the international arena with key industry institutions.

TODAY

Liberia is a respected and professional provider of corporate and ship registration services. With 11% of the world's fleet, Liberia's Ship Registry has evolved into the world's largest quality registry. Since major international financial institutions routinely loan billions of dollars to Liberian corporations under ship finance arrangements, Liberian corporations are recognized by banking facilities and investors worldwide.

COUNTRY PROFILE

LIBERIA is Africa's oldest republic with statutory law based on Anglo-American common law. Liberia, "land of the free," is a West African country founded in 1820. On July 26, 1847, the free and independent Republic of Liberia was proclaimed. Liberia is situated on the West African coast. Monrovia is the capital city and principal port.

In 2006, Ms. Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf, a Harvard University graduate and former World Bank economist, was elected President of Liberia and became the first elected woman to lead an African nation.

Under the leadership of the Johnson-Sirleaf administration, Liberia reestablished its leading role within the region and the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS). Moreover, substantial international investments from Brazil, China, India, Indonesia, Japan, the United States, and others are entering the country to capitalize on the country's abundant natural resources, directly contributing to Liberia's economic and industrial development. Being an equatorial country, Liberia is richly endowed with timber and mineral reserves. Its main exports are rubber, timber, iron ore, coffee and cocoa. Firestone has operated extensive rubber plantations in Liberia since 1926.

SERVICES

LIBERIAN BUSINESS ENTITIES
Corporation	One of the oldest and most popular types of entity for setting up a commercial enterprise. A corporation is a distinct legal entity which is separate from the individuals who own it. The corporation assumes liability for all debts undertaken on its behalf and limits the shareholder's personal liability exposure to the sum of their investment. Liberian Corporations are easy to form and administer and require no annual filing.
Limited Liability Company (LLC)	A hybrid entity designed to provide the limited liability features of a corporation and the operational flexibility and efficiencies of a partnership. An LLC can be structured so that income generated by the LLC does not attach to the entity itself but flows directly through to its owners.
Limited Partnership	An attractive form of entity for investors who seek limited liability and do not want to be involved in the daily operations of the business, but participate in profits generated by the entity. Limited Partnerships are often formed by business owners involved in real estate, manufacturing and other business ventures.
Private Foundation	This is a useful vehicle for individuals seeking to preserve the wealth-generating activities of a family, while making the income available to the beneficiaries in accordance with the donor's wishes. The Private Foundation acts as a separate legal entity for assets transferred to it, usually in the form of a gift by a donor, and are designed to provide named beneficiaries, which might include the donor, with an income from the assets.
MOVE YOUR EXISTING CORPORATE STRUCTURES TO LIBERIA
Re-domiciliation	A process whereby a non-Liberian legal entity, moves from its original, inconvenient jurisdiction to Liberia. This process allows such entity to retain its business history and maintain the same legal identity while receiving the more favorable benefits of Liberia - the entity's new corporate jurisdiction. Re-domiciliation does not affect the assets or properties originally held by the non-Liberian entity including bank accounts, other than to advise the relevant parties of the changed jurisdiction. Liberia provides free re-domiciliation for foreign entities moving to Liberia.
ADDITIONAL SERVICES
Restructuring	Restructuring options include merger and consolidation. They are available for Liberian and foreign entities, regardless of whether the entities are of the same type (i.e., all corporations) or mixed (i.e., corporations and LLCs).
Conversion	As the needs of a business may change over time, clients have the option to convert from one entity type to a better-suited one. Any Liberian entity may deregister as such form of entity and re-register as another form of Liberian entity.
Foreign Maritime Entity (FME)	An option for a non-Liberian entity looking to register a vessel in the Republic of Liberia is to register as an FME. By registering as an FME, a non-Liberian entity is qualified to register a ship under the Liberian flag.
